Discover the art of wine tasting and express your artistic side!

Imagine putting yourself in the shoes of a painter using watercolor techniques, and taking advantage of the unique colors of red wine to express your artistic side.

Laetitia Ouspoutour, the daughter of winegrowers, completed her training as an oenologist with international experience as a sommelier. She followed a training course with a watercolorist to master this technique of using wine in painting.

“

A very pleasant time spent in Laetitia's company.
